GARREY & CHENIERE have lumber on the ground for the erection of a grain warehouse, 40x40, in rear of the Imperial bank.

Mrs. A. WARRING, of Revelstoke, arrived on Thursday's train. Mrs. Warring is the proprietor of the Burke farm on Horse hill plain.

Monday's train brought north Mrs. Astleford and children from North Dakota to Edmonton. N. Nelson and son from Washington to Oida. Mrs. Parin from Wisconsin to Wetaskiwin.

MR. AND MRS. A. TAYLOR left on Friday's train on a trip to Vancouver, Seattle, and Hayo, Montana, where Mr. Taylor's brother resides. Miss Mabel Cameron accompanied them as far as Seattle.

J. F. FORBES, secretary of Fort Saskatchewan agricultural society, returned from Regina on Thursday's train. Of the exhibits taken down by Mr. Forbes only one took a prize, the butter shown by Miss Irwin of Agricola. This was shown against 56 competitors.

MEASONS, J. R. Turnbull and R. McKernan, secretaries of the Edmonton and South Edmonton agricultural societies respectively, will arrive on to-day's train. They were compelled to remain until the end of the show in order to bring back their exhibits. The exhibits of grasses and vegetables sent by the Edmonton society heated on the way down and were therefore spoiled for exhibition.

Two miners named Majore and Bourgoise arrived from Fort Assiniboine on the Athabasca on Thursday, having left the Athabasca on Monday. A party of three had gone out by the Pembina route and when on the Athabasca before they had mined at all, their boat upset and they lost everything. The two men came in for fresh supplies and left on Saturday. They say that there are over 200 men now on the Athabasca, but very few are working as the water is still high. Those who are working are making about $1.50 a day. Most of them are passing up and down prospecting for a good place to work when the water falls. The cart road cut out along the old pack trail from the Pembina to the Athabasca, 40 miles, is fairly good and all travel will go that way.

Ex-Brigadier Rev. Alfred De Bartlett, of Toronto, late of the Salvation army, has entered an action for $5,000 against Commandant Herbert Booth, for alleged slander and libel.

THE Idea is the name of a paper published in Vancouver, B. C., of which S. G. Ketchum is editor. Its first number fails to explain what its idea is unless it be not to have any idea. A queer idea.

HUGH RYAN, railway contractor, has arrived in Manitoba, it is supposed to build the Lake Dauphin railway, the rival to the latest scheme of the Hudson's Bay railway company. By the way, what has become of Hugh Sutherland and his engineers and contractors, etc., which a very few weeks ago were filling the public eye in Manitoba? Has he crawled under the barn and died? Or will he and his fake railway loom up again with the approaching elections?

THE August, or mid summer number of The Canadian Magazine is well illustrated, and contains an excellent variety of reading matter, equal in general to that of any mid-summer number of the year. Two of the stories awarded prizes in the recent prize competition, are included in the excellent fiction in which the number abounds. These prize stories by Stuart Livingston and Clifford Smith, as well as the illustrated story by R. F. Dixon, are striking in plot and treatment. The Magazine is published by the Ontario Publishing Co., Ltd., Toronto, at $2.50 per annum. Single copies cost 25 cents.

P. A. PRINCE, manager of the Eau Claire lumber business in Calgary, and J. K. Kerr, president of the company in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, arrived on Sunday evening from Wetaskiwin, driven by B. F. Boyce of that place. Messrs. Kerr and Prince are on a business and pleasure trip along the C. & E. line and are visiting Edmonton for the first time. They came by train to Innisfail, and by team from Innisfail to Wetaskiwin. They will return by train to-morrow. Speaking of lumber and the lumber business, they say that Edmonton is well supplied with lumber of good quality. The Eau Claire Company ship lumber from Calgary north as far as Wetaskiwin and east to Medicine Hat.

THE editor of the South Edmonton News sends the following opinion of the conduct of the fair from Regina to his paper: "Pressmen have been used very badly by the judges and others in connection with the fair. A representative had a hard time to get any information whatsoever. The fact of the whole matter is, Lieut. Governor Mackintosh thought that unless he sanctioned everything, it couldn't go. The press was all right before the fair when that gentleman was pleased to use them (free), but in return they receive snubs on almost every hand. However, His Honor will not find the press so liberal at any future date. A few of the big guns and managers are demolishing some $1200 worth of champagne, and having a royal good time, while the pressmen, who really deserve the credit, get snubbed on every hand. In future the press will be on the lookout for this kind of thing."

Winnipeg Nor-Wester: Quite a crowd of people assembled at the depot on Thursday to bid farewell to sister St. Mary Xavier, who has left St. Boniface after many years of active service in the cause of higher education in this province. A very large portion of the ladies of Winnipeg owe their instruction to her. She came to the west over forty years ago. She was then young and enthusiastic and although now come to the mature age of three score years she has not diminished aught in her heart for the welfare of those committed to her care. For many years she was at the head of affairs in respect to St. Boniface Ladies' academy, but for some years back she has interested herself in the hospital. Only the other day a Nor-Wester reporter heard from a poor sufferer, and also from her husband, golden opinions of Sister St. Mary Xavier. This poor patient said that had it not been for the fact that she had a good husband to go to she had much rather stayed on in the hospital under the kindly motherly care of Sister St. Mary.

THE heavy rain of Thursday last, occurring at the critical season of the year, occasioned a good deal of anxiety on Thursday and Friday nights. The rain ceased on Thursday afternoon and the sky showed a tendency to clear in the evening which would have been dangerous. But the clouds gathered again and kept off the dreaded frost. Friday was fine, warm and clear. Friday night was perfectly cloudless and still, with a brilliant display of northern lights. In the early morning the air became cool and white frost showed in some localities. There was not sufficient frost to damage grain or even delicate garden vegetables. Saturday was clear and warm. The weather evidently having settled the danger point for the crop of this season is passed. Of course grain that is particularly late in maturing may be caught by the fall frosts in September, but the grain this season is generally well advanced. In the eastern part of the district crops are lighter and consequently earlier than in the western part, particularly in the case of oats. Harvesting will be quite general this week. On Stony Plain, where the crop is heaviest, some of the grain has been tangled by Thursday's rain so that the ripening will be delayed and the cost of harvesting increased, but no other damage done.

W. H. CUSHING of Calgary visited Edmonton on Thursday's train.

THE steam gold dredge is nearly completed and will be at work this week.

TO-NIGHT's train will bring the last of the Regina and Winnipeg excursionists.

DIXON's new store at Wetaskiwin is nearing completion. The shelving is being put in.

J. SANDERS, H. Peppard and D. Brown leave for the Athabasca on Thursday to mine.

MISS CORRIGAN arrived from Toronto on Thursday's train and is the guest of Mrs. Fred Ross.

A. CAMERON and Wm. Chisholm have built a mining machine and will leave for the Athabasca in a few days.

Mrs. W. L. WOOD came in from the Landing on Tuesday last to visit her niece, Mrs. J. E. Graham.

CHAS. FOWLER arrived in town to-day from Chave & Lamoureux's mill, where he has been working for some months.

E. W. HUBBELL, D. L. S., has returned from surveying in the Beaver hills and will next go to Gull lake, west of Lacombe.

COMPLAINT is made in regard to the exhibit of grain in the straw and grasses at Regina, that the exhibits from the Indian Head experimental farm which took the first prize, were not in position until a day or more after the time required by the regulations. While exhibits which were brought two days or more by rail were compelled to be on time, and were therefore at a very great disadvantage in lack of freshness.

S. B. McNAMARA made a bicycling record at Regina of which himself and friends may well be proud. He took six firsts and three seconds, and was not behind second in any. The firsts were: mile Novice, 1/2 mile Territorial championship, 1/2 mile handicap, Territorial record mile in 2:31, three minute class, and team race Territories against Manitoba, although the Territories did not win. He was second in the mile championship, 1/2 mile open, and 5 mile Northwest championship. In the race against the Manitoba record of 1:28 he failed to beat it but was given an equal record, although he had been very ill the day before.

THE REGINA FAIR.

The exhibition at Regina which closed on Wednesday last was a great success in point of exhibits and attendance, in both of which it no doubt exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its promoters. When the comparatively small population of the Territories and the wide separation of the settlements are considered it is wonderful that such a measure of success has been attained and is certainly a tribute to the energy and well known versatility of the projector of the exhibition, Lieutenant Governor Macintosh. But the primary and legitimate object of agricultural exhibitions is not merely to draw a crowd of spectators or even of exhibits. Agricultural exhibitions are valuable as a manifestation of the spirit of enterprise and emulation amongst the farmers and other citizens of a country, and as a further encouragement to enterprise and incitement to emulation. It is not in order that those who have good products may show them that exhibitions are held, but in order that they may be encouraged to continue to produce the like and that others may be interested to attempt the same success. The proper purpose of an agricultural show is to assist the improvement of agriculture. By that standard it is to be feared that an impartial judgment on the so called Territorial exhibition cannot give it credit for value to the amount of the money it cost, or anything like that amount. No doubt a certain amount of good was accomplished. The meeting together of representatives of all sections of the Territories could not fail to produce clearer and better balanced ideas as to the different sections of this great area, and the opportunity to compare products, or successes, must have some effect in arousing healthy competition that will have beneficial results. But when the net good done is balanced against the cost it will be found that the Territories—if the Territories had anything to do with it—have paid very dear for their whistle. It was a fairly good whistle, but it was only a whistle, and cost a lot of good money that is very much needed in other ways.

It was not in its inception a manifestation of Territorial enterprise. The idea was that of the lieutenant governor on his attainment of the position, and it was given body by a vote of the Dominion parliament at its session of '94 granting $25,000 for the purpose, without, as far as the public are aware, any Northwest opinions being asked on the matter. This vote of the Dominion house was supplemented by a vote of $5,000 from the funds at the disposal of the Northwest assembly and a grant of $10,000 from the town of Regina, a tidy capital of $40,000, not one cent of which was contributed by private enterprise or for which any private individual was responsible. Every person has a right to do as he pleases with his own money. So that when men subscribe money on which to hold an agricultural exhibition it is no body else's business. But when public money is voted for any purpose the question whether that is the best purpose for which it could be voted is properly up for discussion. And it is a very great question whether the diversion of $25,000 of public money from the ordinary needs of the Territories has been paid for by the good results of the exhibition. Just how great those needs were it may not be out of place to remind all concerned. The same government which in the early summer of '94 asked parliament to vote $25,000 to hold a fair at Regina, in the fall of the same year refused to advance one cent to keep starvation during the then coming winter out of the district immediately surrounding the locality in which this fair was to be held. For which purpose was that money most urgently needed, to hold a fair or feed the hungry? But why drag this matter into a discussion of the merits of the fair? Did not the Dominion pay for the show, then why should we complain? For this reason. The Dominion which had money for the show had no money with which to feed the hungry settlers. The Northwest government assumed the responsibility at a cost of some $40,000. And during the coming year the Northwest throughout its length and breadth, in its public works and perhaps in its schools, will feel the pinch of that shortage in the funds; a shortage which would not have existed had the money voted for the fair been used for the more necessary purpose of relieving the distress. When we are paying for something we are apt to figure on its value much more closely than if some other person is paying for it; and when the people of the Territories understand that the Regina fair means something like a thousand dollars shortage to each electoral district in road money during the coming year they may feel that the cost is greater than the profit, and will take care that the effort is not repeated on the same terms.

When agriculture in the Territories has advanced to such an extent that private enterprise can afford the cost of transportation and management, will be the time to hold a truly Territorial exhibition which shall be successful in the right way. When the bounds of private enterprise and ability are exceeded the exhibition becomes simply a circus, which was what the so-called Territorial exhibition at Regina really was. This country is not yet in a position in which it can afford a $40,000 circus at shorter intervals than the accession of each successive lieutenant governor.

THE VICE-REGAL PARTY AT ST. ALBERT.

St. Albert, basking peacefully beneath the beautiful rays of the setting sun, was awakened to joy and gladness on the evening of the 6th inst. by the announcement of their Excellencies Lord and Lady Aberdeen's arrival. The soft green carpet of summer sparkled with myriads of flower gems, the birds poured forth their sweetest songs of glee and the perfumed breezes whispered to every ear the glad tidings, the joyful news of the coming of Lord and Lady Aberdeen. Yes, on this memorable evening of the 6th, their Excellencies, escorted by a troop of mounted police, ascended the steep hill that leads to St. Albert palace the home of the venerable and well beloved Bishop of Alberta. They came, not officially, but rather to strengthen the golden chains of friendship that must forever bind the good together. As their Excellencies approached, the bells of the cathedral chimed their sweetest notes of welcome and the surrounding woods faithfully re-echoed the merry peals. The Vice Regal party were met at the entrance of the palace grounds, by His Lordship Bishop Grandin, Very Rev. Father Leduc, V. G., Rev. Fathers Remas, Vegreville, Dauphin, Le Marchand, O. M. L., and ushered to the Bishop's drawing room, where a number of invited guests awaited their coming; among whom were noticed D. Maloney, M. L. A., W. H. McKenney, &c., and other principal citizens of St. Albert. After enjoying their visit there, His Lordship, the clergy and guests accompanied their Excellencies to the convent where the good Grey Nuns and their charming children awaited them. The reception took place in the industrial school department. A song of welcome was creditably rendered by the children. An address was read by a little Indian girl and very complimentary verses, in honor of the illustrious visitors, were recited by Miss Maggie O'Neill while she presided over a group of little ones who most gracefully presented an offering of flowers. His Excellency made a most flattering reply, congratulating His Lordship, Bishop Grandin and the good sisters for the great success obtained in the training and education of Indian children. A pleasing feature of the reception and one that visibly touched Lord and Lady Aberdeen, was when the little Indian girl who read the address made a mistake and said Lady Mar— when she should have read Lady Aberdeen. His Excellency asked the children: "What do you think the little girl was going to say?" They all answered "Lady Marjorie." This spontaneous response elicited loud applause from the audience and proved that Lady Marjorie, the gifted editor of the "Wee Willie Winkie," was no stranger to the children of St. Albert to whom her charming little journal comes monthly, and like a sunbeam of happiness sheds light and beauty around their home, or as a little St. Albert contributor expresses it in the "Wee Willie Winkie."

"Wee Willie Winkie" is pretty and gay, Came to my house in the Northwest one day, Dressed in red coat and pictorial vest, He won my heart and became my guest. I cherish and keep him with tender care, My joys and amusements with him I share, My secrets sweet to him I gladly tell, For he smiles with joy, and says, "they are well."

Lady Aberdeen, with all that noble dignity and kind condescension so characteristic of the truly great, listened and smiled on the happy throng, and while every eye was affectionately directed towards her, she drew from her satchel two handsome prizes, one of which was won by Miss Constance de Cazes for general assistance, and the other by Miss Lillie Monti for general proficiency. The prizes were two brooches; one in gold having the "Irish Village" at the Chicago exhibition engraved on it; the other a shamrock and horseshoe made of Irish Connamara marble set in silver. It is needless to say that the happy recipients were proud of their prizes and that the great honor conferred on them was duly appreciated. After the singing of "God Save the Queen," the party entered the dining room where a sumptuous luncheon was set. The room was elegantly decorated: pictures of the Aberdeen family were everywhere conspicuous. His Lordship presided at the table and as their Excellencies, Very Rev. Father Leduc and the other guests partook of the repast the greatest gaiety was manifested. Her Excellency was delighted to learn from the Rev. Sister Superior of the convent that the Edmonton hospital in course of construction, was nearly completed. She was also happy to meet the Superior of the new hospital, Rev. Sister Mary Xavier, and promised to recommend this much needed institution to the charitable consideration of the ladies of her association. The parting hour was fast drawing nigh, these delightful moments were about to end, as their Excellencies, accompanied by Bishop Grandin, the clergy and their suites, passed from the convent, bidding adieu to the Lady Superior and the kind sisters. Their carriage rolled away amid the ringing of bells, the booming of shots and this prayer of the people.

Long live our Noble Governor General
And his worthy consort Lady Aberdeen
May they in Canada's fair capital
For many years represent our Queen.

GENERAL NEWS.
Vancouver, B. C., is in danger from adjacent forest fires.
Persecution of the Armenian Christians by the Turks continues.
The eastern papers have discovered that the C. P. R. has surveyors at work in the Crow Nest pass.
The Commercial says that harvesting will be general in Manitoba after the tenth to the fifteenth of August.
The Winnipeg Commercial mentions that oats in some parts of Manitoba are considerably affected with smut.
Volney P. Ashford, a Canadian from Port Hope, who was Queen Ida's minister of war during her reign in the Sandwich Islands, is said to be pushing a filibustering expedition to the Islands, now being organized in San Francisco by W. P. Morrow.
Vancouver special of August 3rd to the Winnipeg Commercial: The only important changes this week are an earlier feeling in butter and a sharp drop in eggs, owing to receipts from Ontario. The top price on Manitoba creamery butter is down to 17c to 18c. Eggs have declined 3c to 5c per dozen. Vancouver refined sugars are 3c lower.
Montreal Star: Canada has vacant prairies as well as congested cities. She has long spent a good deal of Canadian money in trying to persuade the surplus population of the old world to come over and fill them. Her success in this has been problematical. They have come over in others, and helped to create a congested state in our cities. They have come over in others again; and, knowing nothing of our climate and methods of agriculture, have made a failure which they have not neglected to report at home. But on them all has Canadian money been spent, and Canadians are very little the better. Now, why not spend this Canadian money in helping Canadians who are out of work in our cities to find work on our vacant lands? This would be helping the country in two places at the one time, while the best immigrant in the world could only help it in one. It would tend to restore the lost balance between country and town.
Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, speaking to the Grand Orange lodge of British North America at Halifax, said: "I do not believe that the people of Manitoba would tolerate the infliction on any class in that province of a real, tangible, manifest grievance in the matter of the schools. I know them well enough, and have sufficient faith in their sense of right and justice to be convinced that no appeal made to them which is based on a case of actual hardship or oppression will be allowed to remain unheeded; but I do strenuously object, now and at all times, to any law being imposed upon that or any other province at the dictation of a church. What has been proved by experience to be sound policy in the case of Prince Edward Island, of Nova Scotia, of New Brunswick, of British Columbia, may safely be applied to the young and lusty province of Manitoba; and if the time should ever arrive when coercive interference with its educational system is attempted, I will not fail to give effect to the views which I have so often previously expressed, and which I have now once more reiterated." Mr. Wallace still holds his seat as an outside member of the cabinet which is pledged to the coercive interference to which he objects. Hence the distrust of those pledges by the members of the same cabinet who demand coercive interference.

Oats were cut in Kildonan, Manitoba, on August 6th.
E. B. Osler, replying to Sutherland's insinuations re his connection with the Qu'Appelle, Long lake and Saskatchewan railroad and steamboat company, says: "I say without consideration that I consider the result of the operation of this road for the past five or six years should of itself be sufficient reason why the government should make no such grant to the Hudson's Bay railway, even if there were not other and fatal objections to the Hudson Bay scheme, and I maintain that the Hudson Bay railway, if ever built, will bring discredit on Canada and on the government that subsidizes it."
A correct list of the victims of the Ku Chong massacre in China is as follows: Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Miss Nellie Saunders, and Lena Irish, burnt in the house. Miss Stettie Newcomb was speared and thrown down a precipice. Miss Marshall had her throat cut. Miss Gordon speared in the head. Miss Topsy Saunders speared in the brain. Master Herbert Stewart skull fractured and brain exposed. Lena Stewart died from shock. The correspondent concludes: "Four other Stewart children and Miss Colbridge were seriously injured." The Chinese magistrate at Ku Chong waited for the completion of the massacre before appearing upon the scene there. There are a thousand soldiers at Ku Chong. It is, therefore, absurd that the authorities could not have stopped the massacre, which was evidently carefully and secretly organized. The American mission at Suabi, near Han Kow, has been destroyed and the missionaries are fugitives. The American consul has advised the missionaries in adjacent provinces to retire.

And whereas the special rate on the dollar on the rateable property in the municipality according to the last revised assessment roll required as being sufficient to pay the said interest and create the said equal yearly sinking fund for the payment of the principal is thirty-five one-hundredths of a mill, and above all other rates and taxes shall be levied, (in the same manner and at the same time as the general municipal taxes) upon the whole rateable property of the municipality in each year for the period of twenty years, being the period during which the said debentures will run and within which the debt created thereby is to be discharged.
